“ We were neighbors in the 1950s on Rough and Ready Island in the Stockton River. I was in awe of Janet; she was lovely with her waist length brown hair. She was also athletic and quick to smile and tease. Years later she and Mike and Meggin spent Christmas with our family when he was stationed at Oak Harbor. A quick four months later he was missing in action in the Vietnam War. Janet raised her twins, Mike and Marc, and their big sister, Meggin. She must be an angel now; she's earned her wings. Rest Janet.
