

Karen Kathleen Hatch

April 12, 1972 - July 5, 2025

Karen Kathleen Hatch

(Beloved Wife, Mother, and Friend)

Karen Kathleen Hatch, a woman of boundless love, inappropriate timing of laughter, and unshakable loyalty, passed away surrounded by her family. She was a devoted wife, a nurturing and kind mother, a fierce and supportive friend, and a woman who never met an animal she didn't want to spoil or a child she didn't want to make laugh.

Karen lived life on her own terms, whether that meant binge-watching her favorite reruns of

Cops, taking in low-budget horror movies (the cheesier, the better), or simply enjoying the chaos and joy of her family. She had a way of making even the smallest moments feel special, whether it was a shared laugh or a quiet evening with her loved ones.

She leaves behind her heartbroken husband Shannon, her two sons Spencer and Sage, who were her pride and joy as well as countless friends and family members who will forever miss her irreplaceable presence. Karen's love was warm, her laughter contagious, and her absence will be deeply felt in all the places she was supposed to be.

We do not mourn the memory of her for those who live on in every act of kindness, every shared laugh, and every animal she showed love to, from the birds she demanded to be fed to the dogs and cats she always had time to stop and pet, to the crawling things she didn't want to touch, but still wanted to ensure were safe. Instead, we mourn her absence: from our short walks, long drives, the couch during movie nights, and the quiet moments where her voice should have been.

Rest easy, Kari. You were loved deeply, and you will be missed.

"Grief is the price we pay for love."
